

Hotel Journey

Vancouver was the city chosen for Louis Vuitton's first Canadian Maison, only the 12th Maison boutique world-wide. The gilded invitations set the tone for a cocktail reception at the boutique (where fashion-lovers are able to experience a two-storey bag bar, a private VIP suite, personalization services and an array of leather goods and runway collection pieces), which was followed by a journey (a short trip on a 1943 vintage steam locomotive) to an undisclosed location ornamented as a historic train station and housing vintage Louis Vuitton trunks. Oscar- and Golden Globe-winning composer Gustavo Santaolalla performed before DJ Leanne spun tunes into the night.
